DETAILED ACTION

Withdrawal of Allowable Subject Matter

The indicated allowability of claim 26 is withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to EKEDAL. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 2-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent #5,216,866 to EKEDAL. EKEDAL discloses a form including a plurality of spaced apart metal, column2, line 18, frame members (1) formed by a plurality of members, a reinforcing mat (11) disposed within and adjacent to the frame (1), and a plurality of brackets (4) slidably, column 1, line 58, disposed on the ends of the reinforcing mat (11) located adjacent respective ones of the frame embers (1) such that the reinforcing mat (11) is fixed to the frame (1) to thereby hold the mat (11) in place within the respective frame member (1). Regarding claim 3, each of the frame members (1) have a general C-shape with flanges (2,3) that extend inwardly toward an interiorly of the frame. In reference claim 4, the reinforcing mat (11) is sized to move into the frame past the inward flanges (2,3), see below. Regarding claim 5, the C-shaped frame (1) is an inwardly facing channel (CH) defined by an outside panel portion (PP), see above, wherein the brackets are slidable, column 1, line 58, on the frame (1) against the outside panel portion (PP) through the bracket (4) by portion (TP) of bracket (4) engaging the outside panel portion (PP). In reference to claim 6, the applicant is reminded that the method of fixing the end portions after being slid, is not germane to the issue of patentability in apparatus claims. In apparatus claims, it is the final product that is given patentable consideration. However, the brackets (4) are fixed to the end portion of the reinforcing mat (11) after being slid against and attached to the outside panel (PP) of the frame members (1), column 2, lines 20-25. Regarding claim 7, the reinforcing members (11) are re-bar, column 2, line 5, wherein, a mat inherently is comprised of a criss-crossed pattern.

Claim 26 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent #5,216,866 to EKEDAL. EKEDAL discloses a form including a plurality of spaced apart metal, column 2, line 18, frame members (1) formed by a plurality of members, a reinforcing mat (11) disposed within and adjacent to the frame (1), and a plurality of brackets (4) slidably, column 1, line 58, disposed on the ends of the reinforcing mat (11) located adjacent respective ones of the frame members (1) such that the reinforcing mat (11) is fixed to the frame (1) to thereby hold the mat (11) in place within the respective frame member (1). The reinforcing members (11) are re-bar, column 2, line 5, wherein, a mat inherently is comprised of a criss-crossed pattern. The applicant is reminded that the method of fixing the end portions after being slid, is not germane to the issue of patentability in apparatus claims. In apparatus claims, it is the final product that is given patentable consideration. However, the brackets (4) are fixed to the end portion of the reinforcing mat (11) after being slid against and attached to the outside panel (PP) of the frame members (1), column 2, lines 20-25.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent #5,216,866 to EKEDAL. EKEDAL discloses a form including a plurality of spaced apart metal, column 2, line 18, channel frame members (1) that face inwardly and are formed by a plurality of members, a reinforcing mat (11) disposed within and adjacent to the frame (1), and a plurality of brackets (4) slidably, column 1, line 58, disposed on the ends of the reinforcing mat (11) located adjacent respective ones of the frame members (1) such that the reinforcing mat (11) is fixed to the frame (1) prior to installation of the reinforcing members (11), column 2, lines 20-25 to thereby hold the mat (11) in place within the respective frame member (1). The mat (11) inherently is comprised of a criss-crossed pattern. Again, the applicant is reminded that the method of fixing the end portions after being slid, is not germane to the issue of patentability in apparatus claims. In apparatus claims, it is the final product that is given patentable consideration. In column 18, EKEDAL discloses that his frame (1) can be metal; however, he does not emphasize "roll formed sheet metal". It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the use intended as an obvious matter of design choice.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 17-23 and 33-37 are allowed.

Claims 8-10,15-16 and 27-28 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
